The Show as ever boasts an extensive array of special attractions and entertainment unrivalled in the area and catering for all the family, including:-

James McKay - Falconry www.honeybank.co.uk

Falconry or hawking, was first recorded in 1700 BC. Throughout the centuries since, the sport has continued to elicit a feeling of tradition, excitement, splendour and pageantry. Although today falconry is arguably as popular as it has ever been, it is still true to say that most members of the public know little about this ancient sport, and even fewer have had first-hand experience.

James McKay is a zoologist and former CEO of the UK's National Federation of Zoos, who is known to thousands as "THE ANIMAL MAN", thanks to innumerable appearances on television, including Blue Peter, Calendar, Midlands Today, Central News, Look North, News at Ten, BBC News, GMTV, It's A Vet's Life, "Tracks", "Watchdog", and BBC Breakfast News.

In his displays, James simulates the sport of falconry, using live raptors in conjunction with inanimate dummies (lures), while still conveying the spirit, excitement and glory of this ancient sport. This enables visitors to see the spectacle and get as close as humanly possible to a wide range of tame raptors, to have their questions answered by an expert, while at the same time being able to handle and even fly the birds.

In addition to the flying, there will also be a static exhibition of the birds where you can meet James in person and where you will also have the opportunity to take photographs of the birds. You might even have your photograph taken while holding one of them.

A trainer of animals for TV and films, James is also a regular contributor to many radio programmes, newspapers and magazines, and is the author of many books on animals and animal-related subjects. A professional, qualified lecturer and scientific fellow of the Zoological Society of London, James McKay not only knows his subject, but also has the rare talent of being able to communicate the topic with enthusiasm and zeal, to audiences of all ages and levels.

In today's "green" society, many people realise that raptors are a barometer for conservation, and would dearly love to be able to get up close to real, living eagles, falcons, owls, vultures and other raptors. At Thornton le Dale Show you can! Take this opportunity to experience an array of real owls and other birds of prey – in the flesh and quite literally, face-to-face. You might even meet one of the owls supplied by James and used by Warner Bros. in the Harry Potter films.

This year James will also be bringing his Ferrets!

Of particular appeal to children and adults alike, will be the Children's Entertainer and the celebrated Sheepdog Demonstrations by Elaine Hill, the difference with Elaine being that instead of sheep, ducks and geese are used.

The Crazy World of Magic with Uncle Mal

www.magicmal.co.uk

*Regardless of whether he is entertaining children or families, Mal Sanderson's novel nonsense and hocus pocus creates a delightful atmosphere of fun and fantasy! An effervescent entertainer, he projects his personality to reach any audience. Mal's humorous approach to magic will leave you laughing, mystified and most importantly entertained!

It is a special delight to watch his rapport with children. Boys and girls become guest stars in a succession of mystifying surprises as they help perform Mal's tricks! Never patronising, he performs with them not at them.

When Mal steps on stage, don't expect vanishing lions or a hat full of pigeons, expect to hear the laughter of the audience enjoying comedy at its best, expect to see an audience gasping in amazement at the impossible made possible, expect the magic of people enjoying top quality professional entertainment.

If Mal could be summed up in one word, that word would be “FUN”. When you see his show you will know why Mal Sanderson is one of the leading performers in the field of magical entertainment.

Elaine Hill - Sheepdog Handling (with ducks and geese)

www.elainehill-sheepdogs.co.uk

Shepherdess, Trainer and Sheepdog Trial Competitor, Elaine has been presenting informative and amusing displays for many years and has become a regular feature at Thornton le Dale Show. Elaine demonstrates the skill, intelligence and flexibility of her Border Collies in her entertaining and educating displays, which appeal to both adults and children alike. Elaine’s dogs normally work sheep both in a working environment and on the trial field, however, during the displays at the Show, they work geese, ducks and ducklings!

Elaine has been involved with Sheepdogs from being a child. In addition to running the family farm, situated high on the Yorkshire Pennines, she writes weekly sheepdog trial reports for two newspapers.

A typical display includes one dog shepherding geese around a sheep dog trial course.

Ducks are driven by a second dog around an obstacle course, through a tunnel, up a slide and down into a paddling pool of water etc.

Children are also invited into the ring.

The conclusion is a parade of ducklings, which are finally driven into their own miniature trailer in which they leave the arena. Elaine’s act is immensely popular with all audiences and is ideal family entertainment.

Ryan Kay - FarlaVale Gundogs

www.farlavale.co.uk

An entertaining & educational demonstration of dog training methods and gundog skills – a real crowd pleaser at any event! FarlaVale Gundogs is a family run business based in a small hamlet on the outskirts of York with an appreciation for all breeds of gundog. Ryan Kay has been involved with gundogs since a child and was brought up working his father's Labradors and Cockers on a small shoot in North Yorkshire.

Ryan is also a gundog correspondent for 'Sporting Shooter' magazine, contributing on a regular basis with stories from the field.

Ryan involves members of the audience and invites everyone to come and meet the dogs afterwards and ask questions on any aspect of dog training.

The Sheep Show

www.thesheepshow.co.uk

THE SHEEP SHOW is EDU-tainment at its best. A live stage show appearing at over 120 outdoor shows throughout the country from the Orkney Isles to the Royal Cornwall. Presented in humorous kiwi style the show introduces us to 9 different breeds of sheep, each with a story to tell and are welcomed on to the stage by their own theme tune. 'Lenny the Lincoln Long wool' arrives to a great Bob Marley tune (very apt for a sheep that has natural dread locks). We are then given a very informative shearing display and learn more about wool.*

However, just to add to this already humorous but educational show, the sheep then do The Sheep Show Shuffle, Yes Dancing sheep!!.

“The show is cleverly devised, highly entertaining and extremely informative – a rare combination”.

Atkinson Action Horses

www.actionhorses.co.uk

Benjamin Atkinson of Atkinson Action Horses began his stunt career at just 11 years old. Now aged 24, Benjamin and his father, Mark Atkinson, travel around Europe providing breathtaking displays and horses for film and TV work including Peaky Blinders, Poldark and Victoria.

Atkinson Action Horses excel in the art of equestrian performance. From the beauty of Liberty, the thunder of the Cossack and artistry in Classical Dressage they are the only company in the United Kingdom to offer a performance containing all these breath taking elements in every single show. They were also the first English horse stunt team to appear at the Great Yorkshire Show.

Atkinson Action Horses have devoted the past 15 years to providing highly trained horses and riders to film, TV and wowing crowds at live events. Now for 2019 the fearless team of stunt riders are taking their unique display on a tour all around the UK – so make sure you don't miss out!

Get ready for a display of tricks and stunts normally only reserved for TV and the Big Screen. Tricks/stunts include: Roman Riding, Drags, Falls, Pick Ups, Horses Rearing and Laying Down. There are true heart in mouth moments as the riders express themselves with astounding acrobatics.

The Show also includes a short but stunning section dedicated to the art of Liberty – displaying the seamless harmony between the horses and their on screen trainers.

The Mighty Smith

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Adrian_Smith_\(strongman\))

Impressive feats of strength from one of the UK's Strongest Men. Adrian started his strength career in 'bodybuilding' before switching over to strongman and was trained by the legendary Geoff Capes.

Adrian, 5th in the World's Strongest Man and three times Winner of UK's Strongest Man Competition, presents a show geared for family fun with visual humour and audience participation. Tearing up catalogues, bending six inch nails in his teeth, walking on a bed of broken glass, holding a chair with a seated lady on it in his teeth, presenting a children's tug of war with prizes.

Subject to the weather and ground conditions permitting, he may amazingly even pull a vehicle.

Jamie Squibb – Freestyle MX

www.squibbfreestyle.co.uk

Since the age of 6 Jamie has been a two-wheel fanatic with a determination to get both wheels off the ground at any opportunity. As he grew and progressed to full on motocross race bikes, the increased power and suspension allowed the possibility of getting seriously airborne. A nearby quarry and woods provided endless possibilities with almost sheer rock faces and spoil heaps galore.

Now with greater airtime and inspired by the visual display of one or two world class motocross riders, Jamie decided to follow suit – and put on a local 'jump' party for a few close friends – but in almost total darkness.

Soon afterwards, the first ever stadium supercross event was held in the UK. Jamie decided to have a go and suddenly found himself running head to head with all his heroes. He made his mark, coming runner up to the world champion in the interval 'freestyle jump' contest - and this his first ever public appearance!

As they say, the rest is history. Jamie soon became the UK's number 1 FMX rider and has represented Britain in Dubai, South Africa, Belgium, and many other shores, including getting massive TV coverage throughout the world over recent years.

So what is FMX?

Born from unofficial jump competitions at dirt bike race meetings FMX has become one of the world's biggest spectator attractions at all sorts of events.

MX also known as FMX, developed from motocross racing. As dirt bike suspension evolved, the man made jumps at races got bigger and the bikes became airborne for longer. Some riders started to use this air time to show off. They soon got noticed and in a very short time became a big attraction for the watching crowd.

Eventually unofficial jump competitions at motocross and supercross race meetings became such a big attraction that they got promoted at separate events and FMX was born. Take off ramps were developed and in recent times lorry based landing ramps have evolved.

Jamie's shows include radical airborne motorcycle aerobatics while the rider performs airborne gymnastic moves, - which can have multi rider line-ups and may also be choreographed to music and commentary. He has performed at most major venues throughout the country and has featured on Top Gear, Eurosport and Motors TV plus many more.

A typical show includes up to three riders who will demonstrate various tricks and bike skills on the ground, while warming up their engines. The main routine starts with a couple of 'normal' jumps across a 60ft gap and then runs through a routine of different moves, with riders gymnastically positioning themselves above, beside and behind the bike, all whilst 40ft above the ground, - sometimes even landing with no hands on the bike.

The biggest and best moves and tricks are saved till last, leaving the watching crowd stunned. Don't miss the opportunity to see this thrilling display.

Pedal Power vs Parkour

(extreme urban sport)

This is the only show of its kind in the UK. The display combines the incredible skill, balance and power of a trial's rider and the finesse of a gymnast/parkour athlete.

Both athletes will be putting it all on the line in an attempt to become the crowds' favourite!

The bespoke rig has been specially made so that both styles of extreme sport can be showcased in an exciting, heart stopping performance. You can expect both athletes to perform all of the latest tricks you have only ever seen on the internet and on TV, pushing the limits of what's physically possible in their attempt to win over the crowd!

Not only will the parkour athlete be able to jump around on all of the high platforms including the roof of the van, but he'll also be able to take advantage of a number of trampolines that are placed around the arena. Some would say this is the most impressive part of the show, the huge double front flips and double backflips are mightily impressive; he's also been known to front flip over the trials rider when he's in action.

In an attempt to take all the glory, the trials rider will also venture onto the trampoline, he's the only stunt cyclist in the world performing tricks on a trampoline and if he 'nails' his move he's sure to win the crowd over.

The Showfield is ideally situated in the centre of Thornton le Dale, a village acknowledged to be one of the most picturesque in the area. Gateway to the North York Moors National Park and the Great Yorkshire Forest in Dalby any opportunity to visit this beautiful part of North Yorkshire should never be missed!
