Thornton le Dale Show on

Wednesday 6 August

Thornton le Dale is rightly the most popular show in the locality and considered to be the best and friendliest of the County's traditional rural shows. The Show is not only the high spot in the annual calendar for locals, but it also acts as the focal point for our many friends throughout the country, and indeed further afield, who return year after year to renew acquaintances on Showday. It is this particular and unique blend of social interaction, which so characterises the Show and gives it its distinctive relaxed, friendly, family atmosphere.

The Show starts at 9:00 a.m. and continues well into the evening with the Working Terrier Show, Lurcher Show, 'Children's Fancy Dress and Sports Events ranging from the Men's 400 yards race (tradition forbids adoption of the metric system of measurement) to a real crowd puller and hugely entertaining, children's Tug of War competition.

If you are pleased with your pastries, jealous of your jam making, proud of your patchwork, admired for your art or creative in your craftwork, then why not enter the handicrafts and produce section. Can you make the supreme Fruit Liquor, the tastiest Sausage Rolls, the finest Victoria Sandwich or the scariest Scarecrow, do your sheep have the finest fleeces? There are classes to cover every conceivable interest and skill ranging from chutney making to crochet and from photography to patchwork and quilting. Or perhaps you have green fingers and enjoy gardening or flower arranging, whatever your interest the Show is sure to cater for it.

On display will be many fine examples of local craft skills typically including wood turning, furniture making, handcrafted greetings cards, pottery, silk printing, painting and dyeing, hand embroidered pictures, jewellery making, candle making, stained glass, fine art, cold cast bronze, handmade soap, patchwork and quilting etc.

There are long established classes for cattle, sheep, pigs, goats and horses and an ever-popular fur and feather section. Traditional rural crafts not surprisingly figure prominently, and the Show boasts the best Shepherds' Crook and Walking Stick exhibition in the region with a quality second to none and regular entry and attendance from the top stick dressers in the Country.

Entrants in the renowned Open Sheepdog Trial (to be confirmed), include a number of National Championship contestants many of whom featured in the popular TV programme, One Man and his Dog and more recently Countryfile.

Approximately 150 trophies are there to be won and cash prizes in over 450 classes.

Always popular is the Craft Marquee which will once again be featuring 'Made in Yorkshire' www.madeinyorkshire.org.uk an organisation whose aim it is to inspire and enlighten Yorkshire design led craft businesses under the recognised quality of the 'Made in Yorkshire' brand. With a reputation for quality and good design, their characteristic marquee is now recognised throughout the region for exhibiting the very best in art, craft and design.

Children in particular will find the hugely popular Fur and Feather section and the Companion Dog Show most enjoyable. These together with additional attractions including Vintage Tractors, an extensive variety of Trade Stands and Demonstrations ranging from Wood Turning to Gun Dog, Falconry, Ferreting and Sheepdog displays ensure a full day's entertainment for all the family.

In the Main Ring, a wide range of traditional and not so traditional attractions will be on view throughout the day climaxing with 'Jamie Squibb', by popular demand a now regular feature at the Show and guaranteed to thrill the audience.

The Show continues to evolve with the organisers keen to see the introduction of new attractions whilst maintaining the traditional character and charm of a Rural, Village Agricultural Show. There are first class catering and refreshment facilities offering a wide range of both hot and cold food, and a seemingly ever-expanding entertainment programme. We will once again have 'Wonder Wheelers' and the 'Avago Circus' workshop for the young and perhaps not so young, to have a free go at!

Featured bands this year once again include the highly acclaimed 'Dave Clegg Swing Band' together with 'The Robert Schmuck Trio' who will be bringing to the Show an eclectic program of classics dating from the 50's onward. But that's not all, the hugely popular 'Railroad Hobos' with their distinctive blend of Skiffle, Country and Celtic music will also be performing. Thornton le Dale is the only Show in the area to feature a big, swing band and vocalist, let alone additional bands of the calibre of the 'Hobos' and Robert Schmuck!

In addition to all these attractions there are Trade Stand Exhibits, a Children's Fun Fair and the chance to try out the bungee Trampoline for example.

Careful screening and selection of Trade Stands ensures the widest possible variety of stalls offering something of interest, value and entertainment to visitors of all ages.

The Show will also be celebrating all things food and drink in Yorkshire and offering a range of home-grown goodies and mouth-watering delights typically including gourmet scotch eggs; beautiful cakes and patisserie; award winning locally produced oils, dressings and mayonnaise; handmade speciality toffees & fudges; award winning pickles and chutneys; luxury puddings; finest quality homemade gins and liqueurs; honey, preserves, chocolates and premium vodkas – you're bound to find something to take your fancy.

The Show as ever boasts an extensive array of special attractions and entertainment unrivalled in the area and catering for all the family, including: -

www.honeybank.co.uk

Falconry or hawking, was first recorded in 1700 BC. Throughout the centuries since, the sport has continued to elicit a feeling of tradition, excitement, splendour and pageantry. Although today falconry is arguably as popular as it has ever been, it is still true to say that most members of the public know little about this ancient sport, and even fewer have had first-hand experience.

James McKay is a zoologist and former CEO of the UK's National Federation of Zoos, who is known to thousands as "THE ANIMAL MAN", thanks to innumerable appearances on television, including Blue Peter, Calendar, Midlands Today, Central News, Look North, News at Ten, BBC News, GMTV, It's A Vet's Life, "Tracks", "Watchdog", and BBC Breakfast News.

In his displays, James simulates the sport of falconry, using live raptors in conjunction with inanimate dummies (lures), while still conveying the spirit, excitement and glory of this ancient sport. This enables visitors to see the spectacle and get as close as humanly possible to a wide range of tame raptors, to have their questions answered by an expert, while at the same time being able to handle and even fly the birds.

In addition to the flying, there will also be a static exhibition of the birds where you can meet James in person and where you will also have the opportunity to take photographs of the birds. You might even have your photograph taken while holding one of them.

A trainer of animals for TV and films, James is also a regular contributor to many radio programmes, newspapers and magazines, and is the author of many books on animals and animal-related subjects. A professional, qualified lecturer and scientific fellow of the Zoological Society of London, James McKay not only knows his subject, but also has the rare talent of being able to communicate the topic with enthusiasm and zeal, to audiences of all ages and levels.

In today's "green" society, many people realise that raptors are a barometer for conservation and would dearly love to be able to get up close to real, living eagles, falcons, owls, vultures and other raptors. At Thornton le Dale Show you can! Take this opportunity to experience an array of real owls and other birds of prey – in the flesh and quite literally, face-to-face. You might even meet one of the owls supplied by James and used by Warner Bros. in the Harry Potter films.

The Ferret Roadshow is the UK's leading, best, most comprehensive, and professional ferreting display. With dogs, hawks and a large number of ferrets of all ages on show throughout the event, combined with two ring displays featuring ferrets, rabbits, dogs, guns, nets and hawks, this is without doubt the pre-eminent ferreting display in the UK and one you really must see. There is even a display of historical artefacts – traps, tools, equipment etc. In other words, the COMPLETE ferreting display, presented by The Ferret Man – James McKay, a true countryman.

Of particular appeal to children and adults alike, will be the Children's Entertainer, 'Billy Biscuit' and the celebrated Sheepdog Demonstrations by Steven Longton, the difference with Steven being that along with sheep, ducks and geese are used.

www.farlavale.co.uk

With an appreciation for all breeds of gundog, Ryan and Alison Kaye put on an entertaining & educational demonstration of dog training methods and gundog skills – a real crowd pleaser at any event! Farlavale Gundogs have now become a regular feature at the Show.

Ryan has been involved with gundogs since a child and was brought up working his father's Labradors and Cockers on a small shoot in North Yorkshire.

He is also a gundog correspondent for 'Sporting Shooter' magazine, contributing on a regular basis with stories from the field.

Ryan involves members of the audience and invites everyone to come and meet the dogs afterwards and ask questions on any aspect of dog training.

As an added bonus Ryan and Alison also provide a fun over the bales scurry throughout the day, open to all dogs and with excellent prizes to those in the placings.

Jamie Squibb – Freestyle MX

www.squibbfreestyle.co.uk

Since the age of 6 Jamie has been a two-wheel fanatic with a determination to get both wheels off the ground at any opportunity. As he grew and progressed to full on motocross race bikes, the increased power and suspension allowed the possibility of getting seriously airborne. A nearby quarry and woods provided endless possibilities with almost sheer rock faces and spoil heaps galore.

Now with greater airtime and inspired by the visual display of one or two world class motocross riders, Jamie decided to follow suit – and put on a local ‘jump’ party for a few close friends – but in almost total darkness.

Soon afterwards, the first ever stadium supercross event was held in the UK. Jamie decided to have a go and suddenly found himself running head to head with all his heroes. He made his mark, coming runner up to the world champion in the interval ‘freestyle jump’ contest - and this his first ever public appearance!

As they say, the rest is history. Jamie soon became the UK’s number 1 FMX rider and has represented Britain in Dubai, South Africa, Belgium, and many other shores, including getting massive TV coverage throughout the world over recent years.

So what is FMX?

Born from unofficial jump competitions at dirt bike race meetings FMX has become one of the world’s biggest spectator attractions at all sorts of events.

MX also known as FMX, developed from motocross racing. As dirt bike suspension evolved, the man made jumps at races got bigger and the bikes became airborne for longer. Some riders started to use this air time to show off. They soon got noticed and in a very short time became a big attraction for the watching crowd.

Eventually unofficial jump competitions at motocross and supercross race meetings became such a big attraction that they got promoted at separate events and FMX was born. Take off ramps were developed and in recent times lorry based landing ramps have evolved.

Jamie's shows include radical airborne motorcycle aerobatics while the rider performs airborne gymnastic moves, - which can have multi rider line-ups and may also be choreographed to music and commentary. He has performed at most major venues throughout the country and has featured on Top Gear, Eurosport and Motors TV plus many more.

A typical show includes up to three riders who will demonstrate various tricks and bike skills on the ground, while warming up their engines. The main routine starts with a couple of 'normal' jumps across a 60ft gap and then runs through a routine of different moves, with riders gymnastically positioning themselves above, beside and behind the bike, all whilst 40ft above the ground, - sometimes even landing with no hands on the bike.

The biggest and best moves and tricks are saved till last, leaving the watching crowd stunned. Don't miss the opportunity to see this thrilling display.
